WEST VIRGINIA'S PRIMARY ELECTION

RESULTS OF THE FIRST STATE-WIDE PRIMARY IN OUR SISTER STATE.

The State primary in West Virginia Tuesday resulted in the Republican nomination for Governor going to Robertson by a small majority. W. F. Hite, of Huntington, wins the nomination for United States Senate by a safe plurality.

J. J. Cornwell was nominated for Governor by the Democrats, with French running second and Hogg third. Charles R. Wilson, a Huntington man is the Democratic nominee for Secretary of State.

Wayne County Results.

A plurality ranging from 800 to 1,000 is reported to have been accorded to Senator D. E. French, of Mercer co., by the Democratic voters of Wayne co. Indications are from Wayne to the effect that A. A. Lilly, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, had carried the county by 250 votes.

This report stated that Col. W. F. Hite had a majority of 250 or more over Albert B. White, who proved to be his most formidable opponent in Wayne county.

4TH OF JULY WILL BE CELEBRATED AT LOUISA.

The 4th of July will be observed in Louisa this year. The committee is now at work on preparations and program. They expect to have a good old fashioned time.

This is a year that should call forth all the dormant patriotism in the people. The world is engaged war. We have narrowly escaped becoming involved and are now being forced by threatening conditions to make gigantic preparations for defense. The celebration of the anniversary of our nation's birth should be more largely than ever devoted to sincere consideration and appreciation of its true meaning.

The citizenship of Lawrence and adjoining counties is invited to meet with us on that day to revive patriotism and inspire it in our youthful sons and daughters.

W. H. Gussler, age 26, and Miss Mary Jones, 25, both of Torchlight, were married Monday.

KENTUCKY OIL FIELDS PROVING PROFITABLE

ENJOYING THE GREATEST ACTIVITY IN MANY YEARS—DRILLERS SCARCE.

Barbourville, Ky., June 4.—The advent of the mid-summer season finds an unusually large amount of development work under way in Kentucky's petroleum fields. There has been a rush of the drill in all the fields, the only delay being a scarcity of drillers, tool dressers and machines.

The week's operations were featured by one strike of unusually large capacity in the Cow creek district, Estill co. A puncture on the Marcus lease, within the proven area, yielded a genuine gusher, the first 24 hours' flow registering 200 barrels. This is perhaps the best strike yet made in that county, where big wells have been featuring the situation for several months. The week's returns show the usual number of fair-sized producers in Estill co., six completions, all in the productive class, being shown in addition to the 300-barrel strike. One completion in the north end of the field, started out at 100 barrels. Three new wells made 25 barrels each. Due to scarcity of drilling material progress in advance work has been somewhat slow. It is next to impossible to get material moved to locations much in advance of the active area because of scarcity of teams.

From the Cow creek district northward 12 miles to Clay City, Powell co., everything is under lease, but few wells are being started. Several tests are drilling around Clay City and in the intervening area a few scattered rigs are at work. One completion in Powell co. showed a yield of 20 barrels at 800 feet, this being the only strike reported from the Powell co. end of the field.

Pipe line connection will be furnished Estill and tributary fields within the next ten days, the line from Wolfe co. being almost completed. Operators who have to depend on tank car transportation will welcome the advent of the pipe line.

BEACH HARGIS PAROLED FROM PRISON

YOUNG MAN WHO KILLED HIS FATHER, THE FAMOUS FUED LEADER.

On Tuesday of this week the Board of Prison Commissioners paroled Beach Hargis, who killed his father, Judge James Hargis, of Breathitt co., in February, 1908. A condition is written in his parole that he shall not use intoxicating liquor in any degree or manner.

Beach is now 36 years old. He is a handsome, gentlemanly fellow, who evidently suffers strong and constant remorse for the awful crime which he committed while under the influence of whiskey and morphine. His father, generally cruel and violent, also was under the influence of liquor and was beating and choking the young man at the time he fired the fatal shot.

The first trial resulted in a hung jury, the final vote standing 9 for acquittal and 3 for conviction. About two years time was spent in jail. During the second trial Beach was out on bond and got drunk and shot off a pistol promiscuously in the town. The jury gave him a life sentence, doubtless being largely influenced by his conduct at that time. This was in March, 1910. His mother has never relaxed her efforts in that time to secure a pardon or parole, and her appeals have been denied.

Beach is her only son. She argued that, unlike other cases, his crime had brought no suffering to any except his own family, and that to be deprived of his presence and help only doubled her heavy burden. Since last November her health has been so bad that she was forced to discontinue her trips to Frankfort. A few weeks ago she was taken to a hospital at Lexington and is yet there in quite a feeble condition. She was overjoyed at the news which reached her by telephone about five o'clock Tuesday evening. Beach went to Lexington at 8:45 that evening and went immediately to the hospital.

For four years Beach was assigned to duty in the hospital, where he became quite proficient as a nurse and assistant to the physician. He learned to do many minor surgical operations, and in the absence of the physician performed such operations as amputating an injured finger, etc. In the drug room he had access to intoxicants, but never tasted them.

After his conviction on his second trial he appealed, and Judge H. S. Barker, now president of State University, dissented from the majority opinion of the Court of Appeals, which affirmed the life sentence. Judge Barker in a letter to the Prison Board said he did not believe Beach Hargis had a fair trial and still thinks so. At the bottom of this letter is a pencil notation signed by former Appellate Judge J. S. Nunn, who also sat in the case, stating that he agrees in the main with what Judge Barker said. Letters are on file from Judges John M. Lassing and E. C. O'Rear, who said they recall that there were grave doubts in the minds of some of the Judges as to whether young Hargis received justice, and one from Judge J. P. Hobson, who wrote the opinion. Judge Hobson said that drink apparently was at the bottom of Beach's offense and if the authorities thought he had conquered the habit he would be in favor of giving him a chance.

Attorney General James Breathitt, who briefed the case on appeal for the Commonwealth, recommended a conditional pardon; but Gov. Wilson, while recognizing mitigating circumstances, did not feel justified in extending clemency so soon after conviction.

Beach grew up in the worst possible environment. He lived in the atmosphere of assassination and murder from the age of 15 to 21. His father was a born leader, but he turned his talents in the wrong direction. He was a violent, dangerous man and was charged with being the leader and instigator of the terrible reign of lawlessness that gave Breathitt such a bad name. He was indicted for complicity in the assassinations. Beach associated with the desperadoes, drank and gambled with them, and always had a big pistol strapped on him. What chance had he to escape the penitentiary?

He now declares he will devote his efforts to caring for and comforting his mother, thus making amends, as far as possible, for his misdeeds.

FEUDIST TO SERVE LIFE TERM IN REFORMATORY.

Lexington, Ky., June 1.—Reports from Winchester, Ky., to-day say Fletcher Deaton, 17-year-old Breathitt county feud leader, will be taken to the State Reformatory to serve a life sentence following a conviction on a charge of complicity in the assassination of Sheriff Ed Callahan of Jackson several years ago.

Deaton's case has been carried thru all of the State courts and into the Supreme Court of the United States, where his appeal was refused.

Deaton is said to be the last of the leaders of the celebrated Deaton-Callahan feud that waged for years in Breathitt county.

DEATH OF MONT JACKSON.

NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM THE WORLD AT LARGE.

The Bulgarian invasion of Greek Macedonia has reached to Demir-Hisar and from that town forces of Bulgarians are said to be making their way southeastward toward the Aegean seaport of Kavalla, northeast of Saloniki. Unofficial estimates place the number of the invaders at 25,000. Along the Struma River the Greeks have evacuated the forts of Rupel, Dragotin, Spato and Kanevo to the Bulgars, without offering resistance.

Coincident with the Bulgarian invasion comes a report that the rejuvenated Serbian army—the ancient enemy of the Bulgars—has landed at Saloniki to re-enforce the British and French troops already there. This force has been variously estimated at from 80,000 to 100,000 officers and men.

Occupation by the French of portions of three craters formed by the explosion of German mines in the Argonne is announced by Paris. Regarding the battle for Verdun, it reports a lively artillery duel to the west of the Meuse. In Upper Alsace the French checked two attempts of the Germans to advance near Altkirch.

The pre-convention exodus of Congressmen has begun, and many of the Republican members are in Chicago. Before the convention opens action is expected in the House on the $241,000,000 Naval Appropriation Bill and on the $42,000,000 Rivers and Harbors Bill in the Senate. Measures which will be delayed by the National Conventions are the Fortifications, Diplomatic and Consular, Sundry Civil, Pension Appropriation and the Army Appropriation Bills.

Are you thinking of training for a profession or a trade?

We used to say "The quickest way to success in any profession is learning Shorthand." We still say so, but by all means learn it the "Machine Way."

Our School has added Shorthand Machines just as we added, years ago, Typewriters, Adding Machines, Mimeographs. (And we have not forgotten to keep them MODERN, etc., because the Public demands new and up-to-date facilities for making the busy man's work easy.)

Modern Bookkeeping is very little like what it was thirty years ago.

Have you seen it? Well you have something of interest still to see. Make your mind up to look into this little device to-day. It will pay you to do it.

Don't stand still. Don't go backwards. Remember what you said about the Adding Machine, a few years ago.

While official comment is withheld, it is understood that the tone of Gen. Carranza's note demanding withdrawal of American troops from Mexico, is regarded as decidedly offensive and certain portions of it, such as the thinly-veiled accusation that the President is playing domestic politics in retaining troops in Mexico, may draw a sharp rebuke. President is determined to maintain the present troop disposition until the ability of the de facto government to police is side of the border is demonstrated.

SATURDAY.

The British and German fleets were engaged in a long battle in the North Sea off the coast of Denmark May 31. At the bottom of the North Sea lie at least three British battle cruisers, three cruisers and eight destroyers. The British Admiralty adds to the conceded losses by Germany two dreadnaughts of the Kaiser class—vessels of 24,700 tons—destroyed, the blowing up of one battle cruiser, the damaging of two other vessels of this class and the ramming and sinking of a German submarine.

The first news of the great battle came yesterday through German sources, the British statement following soon after. No estimate of the casualties has been made, but since some of the vessels were of that type which required a complement of from 800 to 1,000 men, the loss will total thousands.

Again the Germans have tried, but ineffectually, to breach the French line near Fort Vaux. In fighting characterized by Paris as having been of unprecedented violence, the Germans threw attack after attack against the enemy line, but the French guns tore great holes in their ranks and the Germans were forced to retreat in disorder toward Dieppe.

An agreed judgment was entered in the County Court at Lexington yesterday in the back tax case of the Commonwealth against the estate of the late L. V. Harkness, multi-millionaire, whereby the State of Kentucky receives $103,750, the county of Fayette $100,000 and the Board of Education of Fayette county $36,250 as back taxes, on a basis of $20,000,000 assessment for the years 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914 and 1915. Besides the above sums, totaling $240,000, there is added a penalty of $48,000.

"Favorite sons" campaigners renewed their activity last night in Chicago and at all headquarters it was declared that the fight for the Republican presidential nomination had not been abandoned. The old organization leaders plan to place the names of Root, Burton, Weeks, Fairbanks and Sherman as a try-out in the convention and if they fail will attempt to name a "dark horse."

The main celebration of Indiana's Centennial was begun yesterday at Corydon, the first capital, when a historical pageant typifying different eras of the State's growth was staged. Drills, pantomimes and folk dances by school children and patriotic exercises on the old State grounds composed the first day's programme. Many Indiana notables took part yesterday and others will attend to-day.

The second of the big preparedness measures, the Naval Appropriation Bill, carrying $269,900,000, passed the House late yesterday, only four Representatives voting against it. The measure carries for next five battle cruisers, four scout cruisers, ten destroyers, fifty submarines, 130 aeroplanes and provides for a Government armor-plate plant.

The advance guard of the Kentucky delegation to the Republican National Convention left for Chicago last night. The majority of the delegation will leave Monday night. A warm fight is expected between John W. McCulloch and A. T. Hert for National Committee man.

Martin Flynn was chosen for temporary chairman of the National Democratic Convention by the SubCommittee on Arrangements yesterday. J. Bruce Kremer was named temporary secretary, and John L. Martin temporary sergeant-at-arms.

Former Congressman W. T. Zenor, of the New Albany (Ind.) district, died last night after an illness of a few weeks. He had been in public life for a generation.

SUNDAY.

Further progress has been made on the Verdun front in the Vaux section, according to Berlin, and French counter attacks have been repulsed.

Revised reports concerning the great North Sea battle show that the British and the Germans each lost a total of fifteen war craft, but that the British losses were greater in tonnage. These reports cause the British public to believe that the engagement was not so near a defeat as first appeared, and that supremacy is still held by safe margin. On one fact, whether the German's engaged the main British fleet, the reports contradict each other flatly, Berlin claiming that the enemy's grand fleet was in action and London denying it.

MOUNTAIN LAUREL SUGGESTED.

Washington, June 2.—Representative Swagar Sherley, of Kentucky, to-day introduced a bill, by request, to make the mountain laurel the American national flower. Representative Stephens, of Texas, offered a joint resolution to the same effect. The mountain laurel, it is suggested, would not coincide with the requirements of a national emblem because it blooms Memorial Day, Flag Day and the Fourth of July.

NEW PRISON COMMISSIONERS.

The four-year terms of Daniel E. O'Sullivan and M. F. Conley as Prison Commissioners for Kentucky will expire next Monday, June 12th. Gov. Stanley has appointed as their successors Henry Hines, of Bowling Green and Herbert Carr, of Fulton. The other member of the new board is F. T. each had acquired interests in the oil Hatcher, of Pikeville, who was appointed last January.

Previous to four years ago the prison commissioners were chosen by the Legislature. At that time the law was changed, giving the Governor the appointing power and making the commissioners ineligible for reappointment. This was done with a view to preventing the building up of a political machine. A new law was passed by the last Legislature and will go into effect soon, changing several important features contained in the 1912 law.

This board has under its control the Frankfort penitentiary with a present population of 1500; the Eddyville penitentiary with 750 men; and the Kentucky Houses of Reform at Greendale, six miles from Lexington, with inmates to the number of about 450, boys and girls, white and colored.

It is expected that within the next few months many changes will be made in the list of employees at these institutions, as this is a part of the political practice.

UNVEIL MONUMENT.

The Uniform Rank of Reese Camp of Huntington, assisted by a similar corps from the Kenova order had charge of the unveiling ceremonies of the Riffe monument in Normal Sunday afternoon.

Rev. W. B. Burke, of the First Baptist church of Kenova, made the address, his subject being "The Immortality of the Soul." A fine tribute was paid by the minister in his address.

Charles T. Riffe was a prominent member of the Tri-State Camp No. 83 of Kenova. The monument is of an impressive nature.

A large crowd was present. They marched two abreast to the cemetery and decorated the grave with flowers and attended the impressive memorial services. Mr. Riffe was the son of Mr. J. P. Riffe, of Glenwood, this county, and a brother of Police Judge Billy Riffe, of this city. His death occurred very unexpectedly a few months ago.

Among the relatives present last Sunday at the memorial services were his wife, Mrs. Edith Rice, of Kenova; Mr. and Mrs. John Rice, Normal; Mr. and Mrs. Neikirk, Nelsonville, O.; Mr. and Mrs. John Riffe, of Russell; T. Riffe, Mr. and Mrs. John Elswick and sons, of Garner; Mr. and Mrs. Billie Riffe and two sons, Dan and John, of Louisa.

HENRY FORD BUYS WINTER HOME AT FT. MYERS, FLA.

Adjoins Thomas A. Edison Estate and will probably be developed into Park and Villa.

The ever-growing winter colony of Naples and Ft. Myers, Fla., will be interested in the news from the latter city that Henry Ford, multi-millionaire manufacturer, peace advocate and presidential possibility, has bought a winter home near Ft. Myers, adjoining the baronial estate of Thomas Alva Edison. The Ford tract is on McGregor boulevard, the splendid roadway that stretches from Ft. Myers to Punta Rassa, along the Caloosahatchie River to its confluence with the gulf.

Although no details of Mr. Ford's purchase were given, it is believed that he will lay out a magnificent park and villa, paralleling that of the great inventor, his neighbor. The west coast will thus become the winter mecca of scientists and the like, since Mr. Ford and Edison are members of the Naval Advisory Board.

BROTHERS SEPARATED FOR 15 YEARS UNITED.

Each had acquired interests in Estill County Oil Fields.

Winchester, Ky., June 5.—Ion Carroll, of Sutton, W. Va., and his brother, W. G. Carroll, of Chicago, met here by accident tonight at the Gables Hotel, after a separation of fifteen years.

Without the knowledge of the other, it is suggested, would not coincide with the requirements of a national emblem because it blooms Memorial Day, Flag Day and the Fourth of July.

THE HOME CIRCLE
AND ITS INTERESTS.

Column Dedicated to Tired
Mothers as They Join
The Home Circle at Evening Tide.

Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.—Psalm xxxv.

Let us be of good cheer, however, remembering that the misfortunes hard-to bear are those which never come.— Lowell.

Never teach false morality. How exquisitely absurd to tell girls that beauty is of no value, dress of no use. Beauty is of value, her whole prospects or happiness in life may often depend upon a new gown or a becoming bonnet, and if she has five grains of sense she will find this out.—Sydney Smith.

It is not what he has, or even what he does, which directly expresses the worth of a man, but what he is.—
Amiel.

Let us learn to be content with what we have. Let us get rid of our false estimates, set up all the highest ideals
—a quiet home; vines of our planting;
a few books full of the inspiration of a genius; a few friends worthy of being loved and able to love us in return; a hundred innocent pleasures that bring no pain or remorse; a devotion to the right that will never swerve; a simple religion empty of all bigotry, full of trust, hope and love—and to such a philosophy this world will give us all the empty joy it has.—
David Swing.

Banish the future; live only for the hour and its allotted work. Think not of the amount to be accomplished, the difficulties to be overcome, but set earnestly at the little task at your elbow, letting that be sufficient for the day; for surely your plain duty is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand.—
William Osler.

To understand the world is better than to condemn it; to study the world is better than to abuse it; to make the world better, lovelier and happier is the noblest work of any man or woman.—
Bhagavat-Gita.

The power of an endless life is something of present experience. To live at all is to hunger for a larger living. To be conscious of ourselves is to be consious that we are but the germ of what we may be, that we have scarcely begun to fill the promise of our nature.

The path of duty seems at first to be a straight line; but we cannot long follow it without being convinced that it is a circle, whose center is God. One cannot throw himself with all the force that is in him into any noble undertaking without being carried by the sheer momentum which he has gained, beyond the fear of death. In fighting a good fight Death is swallowed up in victory.—Samuel M. Crothers.

The planting of a desire indicates that the gratification of that desire is in the constitution of the creature that feels it. The Creator keeps His word with us all. What I have seen teaches me to trust the Creator for all I have not seen.—Emerson.

We wish for immortality. The thought of an annihilation is horrible, even to conceive it is almost impossible.
The will is a kind of argument; it is not likely that God would have given all men such feelings if He had not meant to gratify.—F. E. Robertson.

For though from out our bourne of time and place the flood may bear me far, I hope to see my Pilot face to face, when I have crossed the bar.—Tenny-
son.

Home! One is more than ever impressed by the significance of that word, when, even in the roughest little hamlet, and most desolate looking it, may mean so much to those who were born in it. It is a beautiful trait, this clinging to the very soil of one's birthplace, sterile and unattractive as it may be to those who have no such associations.

A happy home, whether it consists of two or twelve members, is one where love presides at the board and watches over the couches; where each person loves himself last and considers the other first; where the irritable word is restrained and the affectionate thought given utterance, and where each is glad in laboring for the other's comfort and relieving the other's cares.

It is only too true that to refrain from showing affection makes the wife miserable. She does not care for presents or lavish attention; she wants those little tokens such as may be given even in a look, which will prove her husband's love. We wish some of the good things that some men are saying up to say concerning their wives after they are dead could be said now.

Bread and cheese and kisses are better than sumptuously laden tables with no expression of love.

Smooth out the wrinkles on your forehead when you go to dinner. This will help your wife to retain her youthful appearance.

Four persons, including a woman, were wounded by an unknown negro in Lexington's fashionable residence section yesterday afternoon, following an attempt by the unknown to snatch the purse of Mrs. A. A. Robertson, for whom he had been mowing grass. The negro probly will die as the result of wounds inflicted by police officers. His victims will recover, it is believed.

Ed Crump, owned by Jno. W. Schorr, of Memphis, won the fourth running of the rich Kentucky Handicap at Douglas Park yesterday afternoon before the largest crowd ever assembled at that course. The time was 204 3-5 for the mile and a quarter. Roamer was second and Water Witch third. The race was worth $11,650 to the winner. There were eleven starters.

That the estate of the late L. P. Ewald, iron master of Louisville and St. Louis, is now worth $12,200,000, in spite of hundreds of thousands of dollars paid in administrative and lawyers' fees, was made known yesterday through the filing of a settlement report.

Indications in Chicago last night were that the organization leaders would aid Roosevelt to defeat Hughes, whose lead on the first ballot is admitted, and then use the Hughes followers to defeat Roosevelt, making way for a compromise or dark horse candidate.

Mrs. Clara S. Waite, wife of Dr. A. W. Waite, under sentence of death for poisoning his father-in-law, will be granted a divorce July 1, according to the announcement of a Judge in Grand Rapids, Mich., before whom the case-parade yesterday in Chicago's preparedness meeting.

TIP.

The reason we oppose a Government plant is very simple. It is this:

Even though there is but little profit in the making of armor, we have invested over $7,000,000 in our armor plant.

That plant is useless for any other purpose; if a Government plant is built the usefulness of our plant is destroyed.

It would be good business for us to make armor for the Government at any price over and above the actual shop cost, RATHER THAN SACRIFICE OUR ENTIRE INVESTMENT.

We do not seek to save big profits; our purpose is very frankly to save our armor plant—itself built solely for the use of the Government—from going to the scrap heap.

To do that, we are prepared to agree for any period to any terms of manufacture which the Federal Trade Commission shall say absolutely protects the Government of the United States.

The thirteenth panel of men for jury service in the trial of Will Orpet, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, was exhausted yesterday at Waukegan, Ill., without filling the jury box.

Victor E. Innes was found guilty in Atlanta yesterday of larceny-after-trust in connection with the disappearance of the Neims sisters.

Little Rock, Ark., June 5.—Fifty-nine persons have been reported killed and more than a hundred injured in a series of tornadoes that swept Arkansas this afternoon. All means of communication are crippled and it is feared the list of dead and injured will be increased by later reports.

At Judsonia, one-third of the town was said to have been swept away. The tornado swept clear area four blocks wide and 12 blocks long. Twenty-five bodies and fifty injured already had been taken from the ruins at ten o'clock, reports said.

North Arkansas appears to have suffered most severely, although the storm was general throughout the state.

TIP.

The girl about midnight, armed with a pair of pliers, went to the guest's door and, feeling with her implement for the end of the key, finally succeeded in turning it. Opening the door, she stole into the guest's room and to a chair beside the bed on which he had put his clothes. She was about to withdraw them when she felt a hand on her wrist.

"Let me go," she said in a low voice.

"Certainly," said the visitor. "You have doubtless made a mistake in the room."

He released her, and she withdrew. He knew well what her object had been in trying to take his clothes.

She suspected he was a spy and that in his pockets would be found papers containing information he was taking to the entente allies.

In the morning when he came down to breakfast and bade the girl good morning his face wore that same winning smile. She did not respond, evidently steering herself against him.

When he started on his journey she had on her hat and coat and gloves.

"I am going with you," she said.

"I am delighted."

"You are a spy, and I intend to turn you over to the first German officer we meet."

"Oh, no, you won't!"

"Why not?"

"Because they would stand me up and shoot me."

"I have considered all that."

"But when it comes to seeing me shot down you will regret what you have done."

All the Frenchman said with that same irresistible smile on his lips.

"Give me the papers you are bearing and you may go free for all me."

"It is beyond your power to free me."

"Why so?"

"You have made a prisoner of my heart, and my heart will not be released."

It was evident that the shot had hit.

The girl was winged. But she was not ready to surrender.

"My feelings may drive me one way, but my duty is driving me another. I am capable of sacrificing my feelings to my duty."

"Then do so."

The only weapon he carried was a revolver. Taking it from its holster at his hip he tossed it to her. It fell at her feet. He folded his arms and stood looking at her with that smile which was having the same effect upon her that the eye of a serpent would have on a bird.

"Do your duty to your fatherland. The papers you wish are on my person, but you shall not have them without first killing me."

She was not yet conquered. Taking up the weapon she cocked it, advanced to within a few feet of him, put the muzzle against his breast and said:

"Give me the papers or I will sacrifice you to my duty."

"I love you," was his only response.

"Once more, give me the papers."

"Once more, I love you."

They stood, the eyes of each fixed on those of the other. The battle waxed hot, but not with weapons of death.

It was a fight of love against duty. Without that smile duty might have won.

Presently he saw victory for himself, defeat for her. Disregarding the weapon pressed against his heart he extended his arms, her hand sank slowly, he encircled her, drew her to him and kissed her.

When he went his way with his papers she returned to the house. Her sense of duty had given place to an all absorbing love.

A FAMOUS VICTORY

(Paintsville Herald.)

A young man within the German lines in Alsace knocked at the door of a cottage. A girl came to the door, and he asked her if he might be accommodated for the night which was coming on. She called to her mother in the German tongue. The young man knitted his brows. He had expected to find French inmates.

The mother came and spoke to the stranger, speaking French with a German accent. He told her that he was traveling and since there was no other house near either she must admit him or he must bivouac for the night. She consented to admit him.

The young man was about twenty-two years old and handsome as a picture. A winning smile began to play about his lips the moment he spoke to the girl, and his eyes indicated his admiration for her. He said nothing about the terrible war that was going on nor did his hostess or her daughter. Nevertheless he assumed that they sympathized with the German cause.

For France's lost province has at least as large a population of Germans as French. As to the young man he was plainly French.

Now, though these persons did not talk about the war, it was evident that the visitor, being a Frenchman within the German lines, was living with a sword suspended over him. True, the country near about was not occupied by troops except in small bands, but any German soldier meeting a Frenchman there would require him to give an account of himself. At bedtime the stranger took a candle and went to the room that had been assigned him, locked the door after him and went to bed, but not to sleep. There was that on his mind that precluded sleep. Life was on the one hand, death on the other. He was liable to be clutched by death.

The school board met last Saturday to receive bids on the new school building for this city and rejected all the bids on account of being higher than the architect's estimate.

Arrangements will likely be made within a few days for Mr. Columbus to erect the building.

AFTER THE BOOTLEGERS.

Judge Butler is winning the plaudits of the best class of citizens, regardless of politics, by his positive action in handling whiskey sellers. He is giving them the most exciting time of their lives. The medicine he is forcing down their throats will certainly effect a cure. A Circuit Judge has the power to stop the illicit sale of liquor and Judge Butler is going to demonstrate the fact. A few Judges have already done his in Kentucky, but the number has been altogether too small. When the whiskey sellers become convinced that there is no escape they will quit or move to another district.
